

Business Standard

A correction

The headline of our report yesterday on the ministry of corporate affairs' proposed action against Balrampur Chini wrongly stated that the company was being hauled up for 'fudging' accounts. The action against the company was contemplated for not complying with accounting standards and disclosure requirements, as stated in the report. We regret the error in the headline.